

MILITIA SANCTAE MARIAE

KNIGHTS OF OUR LADY

Great Britain Preceptory

The Preceptor

Invitation

The Preceptor of the Knights of Our Lady in England, Jean-Paul Gauthier, kindly invites you to our 10th Annual Michaelmas Open Day on Saturday, 28th September, 2013, which includes a Chapter, and a Talk by author Fiorella Nash in connection with the Knights' International Familiaris Consortio Institute.

Through the courtesy of the Fathers of the Brompton Oratory, the meeting will take place from 1pm to 4:30pm in St Michael's (Scout) Hall, beyond the garden, and all are invited.

The Chapter will be from 1 o'clock to 2:45. The Talk will be from 3 o'clock, with time for questions.

We English knights have chosen Walsingham as our inspiration during this Year of Faith. Accordingly our friend Mrs Fiorella Nash, who speaks and writes so well on Christian Family Life in our changing world, has entitled her Talk:

HOLY HOUSE: OUR LADY OF WALSINGHAM AND THE FAMILY

Fiorella is a researcher (for SPUC among others) and writer, specialising in pro-life issues from a feminist perspective. She has a BA and MPhil from Cambridge. She is married to Edmund and they have 4 children. Her latest novel 'Do No Harm' is published by Ignatius.

Brompton Oratory is next to the Victoria and Albert Museum, a short walk from South Kensington Underground Station.
